

BC Accessible Adventure List

Greater Vancouver region

Theatre Under the Stars: So much more than just a night at the theatre, Theatre Under the Stars (TUTS) interweaves a kaleidoscope of elements - setting, scenery, concessions, and quality art - into a fun, encompassing experience much greater than the sum of its parts.

Access2 card accepted- wheelchair section available (call to book ahead); consideration for vision/hearing difficulties; Canucks Autism relaxed performances offered.

tuts.ca/visitor-info/accessibility/

Reifel Bird Sanctuary: Look for and learn about birds and maybe even feed the ducks in Delta! Feeding the ducks in a long-standing popular activity for all ages, and Black-capped Chickadees will also take sunflower seeds from the hands of visitors. Registration required. Costs associated.

reifelbirdsanctuary.com/

Sea to Sky Gondola: has accessible paths and walkways. You can use the Access2 Entertainment card for free admission for the caregiver.

seatoskygondola.com/

Visitors using mobility devices can now easily experience Vancouver's beaches.

At both Kitsilano and English Bay beaches, ""mobi-mat" non-slip pathways have been installed, allowing wheelchair users to move from the sidewalk down to the beach's tide line in a regular chair. The City also has water wheelchairs available at no cost at 10 beaches and public pools, including Kitsilano and English Bay beaches.

Inclusive, accessible sailing and paddling organizations include:

Adaptive Paddling Program

<https://bcmos.org/activities/paddle/>

Adaptive Sailing Association of BC

<https://asabc.org/about-us/>

Know of a fun and accessible adventure near you? We'd like to share it! ♥ submit your suggestions here:

